The Virtues of Jumma Day

The hadith extol the virtues of Jumma Day and encourage Muslims to make the most of its blessings:

- "The best day on which the sun rises is Friday."
- "Whoever takes a bath on Friday, purifies himself as much as he can, then goes to the Friday prayer and listens attentively, will be forgiven for his sins between that Friday and the next."

- "There is not a day more virtuous in the sight of Allah than Friday. It is the day on which Adam was created, on which he was admitted to Paradise, and on which he was expelled from it."

The Importance of Friday Prayer

Friday prayer (Jumma Salah) is a communal obligation that holds great significance. Hadith emphasizes the importance of attending this prayer and its rewards:

- "The Friday prayer is obligatory for every Muslim who is not excused, such as a slave, a woman, or a traveler."
- "Whoever performs ablution properly and then goes to Friday prayer and listens quietly until the prayer is over, will be forgiven for his sins committed between that Friday and the next."
- "The angels remain present at the Friday prayer until the Imam finishes his sermon."

Supplications and Remembrance on Jumma Day

In addition to attending the Friday prayer, it is recommended to engage in supplication, remembrance of Allah, and other acts of worship on Jumma Day:

- "The supplications made between the afternoon prayer and the sunset on Friday are not rejected."
- "Whoever reads Surah Al-Kahf on Friday night, it will be a light for him from one Friday to the next."

- "Whoever sends blessings upon me on Friday will receive ten times the blessings."

Etiquette of Jumma Day

Hadith also provides guidance on the proper etiquette and conduct to be observed on Jumma Day:

- "Take a bath on Friday, wear your best clothes, apply perfume, and go to the mosque early."
- "Do not interrupt the Imam when he is giving his sermon, and do not engage in idle chatter."
- "Avoid selling or buying during the Friday prayer."
